A legacy. Something left behind that impacts the lives of those who follow.

Like what?

Like lessons we teach our children. Like family traditions. Like faith. Like letters. Even money.

Sometimes the legacy is informational. Sometimes spiritual. Sometimes monetary. Sometimes it all gets intertwined.

In 1992 our pastor Dr. Jim Rodgers left a legacy that was indeed intertwined. Dr. Rodgers loved our church. He knew he would leave you and as his life came to an end, he asked himself, "What could I leave behind that would make an impact on the church and on Ardmore for years to come?"

His prayers led him to an answer: An endowed lectureship. A sum of money that would ensure a preaching series to educate and strengthen your faith long after his death. Thus, the lecture series you will enjoy this Sunday through Tuesday.

As we celebrate our Festival of Faith, we do not take for granted the generosity and foresight of Dr. Jim Rodgers. On the contrary, we remember his life with gratitude. As we enjoyed his legacy we ask of ourselves What will be my legacy? Perhaps it will be financial. More likely it will be our words, our love, our character and our service.
